Resources

These learner-facing courses are an engaging resource made up of interactive digital material.

Suitable for a level 2 apprentice, these courses are aligned with the Level 2 Commis Chef apprenticeship standards; covering the underpinning knowledge of what learners need to cover during their apprenticeship.

The courses are split into four categories – Culinary, Food Safety, People and Business – and contain information on the knowledge, skills and behaviours apprentices need to cover.

They are structured by tasks for learners to complete, with informative videos of real-life chefs discussing techniques or menu options. The learning also includes summary multiple choice questions which apprentices can use to test their understanding.
